

Experience CTAUN: Sheila Mahady Scholarship

Sheila Mahady was a pioneer in introducing Beta Chi members to CTAUN (Committee for teaching about the United Nations). As a professional educator and constant mentor, Sheila encouraged Beta Chi Members to become global thinkers on worldwide topics. CTAUN, through a daylong conference held at the United Nations in New York City, sparks the passion of every educator. In your own life, the conference will help you view the world with a clearer vision. In the classroom, it will impact the way you impart knowledge of other cultures. Sheila transformed the conference into a weekend of learning! Allow “Experience CTAUN” to enrich your life. Make it your own!

Requirements:

- The applicant must be a first-time participant of the CTAUN Conference.
- The Experience CTAUN: Sheila Mahady Scholarship application must be completed by the date specified by the Beta Chi Scholarship Committee. (One week before the scheduled date of the CTAUN Conference)
- The recipient will use the Scholarship of $200 for attending the conference only. (Suggested uses, but not limited to: Conference fee, meals, transportation, hotel fee)
- The recipient, upon returning from the conference, must provide proof of attendance. The Scholarship Committee asks that this be in the form of a brief paragraph, sharing the applicant’s reactions to the conference. The Committee also asks that a picture of the applicant (selfie, perhaps!), taken at the conference, be attached to the paragraph. The paragraph and picture will be submitted to Pi Lights, in order share Beta Chi’s support of CTAUN with statewide members.
- If the recipient is unable to attend the CTAUN Conference or the CTAUN Conference is cancelled, the applicant shall forfeit the scholarship for that year, but may apply again in future years.
